

Thomas George Rowe and Mary Mallet

History of the Mallet family of Jersey & Guernsey Channel Islands.

Charles Mallet went “wracking” (gathering a seaweed for fuel) in his ship Laurel, they were out for 2 or 3 days, a storm arose and the Laurel was dashed against the rocks and everyone on board were drowned. His wife Marie and daughter. Charles Mallet was centenere of Grouville or Justice of the Peace. Mary Mallet was married a few months later to Thomas George Rowe. They moved to Guernsey and were very poor. They had 13 children but only 2 lived (Mary Louise and Charles LeBoutillier) to marry. One son Alfred fought in the Zulu war, caught yellow fever, returned home to die. Charles LeBoutillier Rowe went to the boat, received a medal for Alfred who was dying. Another boy went to Australia and died there. Most of the children died in infancy.

Thomas George Rowe was a blacksmith. They called him “Jackie Steel Dust,” because of his enormous strength. He died of black jaundice in 1894.

Charles LeBoutillier Rowe went at the age of 6 to help a shoemaker. He ran errands and did odd jobs, paid 6 (?) And old shoes. At 9 he was sent to sea in a trading vessel as cabin boy. He suffered great hardships. Shipwrecked 5 times, traveled around the world 2 at about age 21, he went to help a friend in watchmaking and repair. He married Ellen Thomas. They joined the Baptist church and were very active. He was head deacon for 15 years. After 22 years he opened his own jewelry shop. The Boar war started and the business failed. They went to England and worked at watch making in a small way. Died 30 Nov 1930.
